Ascension on the Avachinsky volcano, 1 day

The volcano AVACHINSKY is the most active volcano in the Koryaksko-Avachinskaya group of volcanoes and represents difficult double type of a volcano like Somma-Vesuvius. Travelers all around the world fascinate the terrific likeness with the legendary volcano Vesuvius – the responsible for the crush of Pompeii.

The active cone of the Avachinsky volcano is located inside the somma which was formed after a crucial eruption. The height of the volcano is 2751 m above sea level. Some years ago the crater was of funnel form 400 m in diameter and 220 m in depth. In 1991 the funnel was filled almost entirely with lava after the eruption. The surface of the cone is generally smooth and only near the top the track is slightly complicated because of several hardened lava layers – the consequences of the volcano eruptions. Currently active fumaroles function in various zones where the lava stiffened. The most powerful and active fumaroles outlet is observed on the top. The Avacha is the most accessible volcano; there is a picturesque view of the ocean and all the surroundings from its top – the town, domestic volcanoes (Kozelsky, Koryaksky), Viluchinsky, Mutnovsky, Gorelyi volcanoes; in a good weather it is possible to see the volcano Opala in the South, the valley of Nalychevo river and the Zhupanovsky and the Dzendsur volcanoes.
