Helicopter excursion to the natural park Nalychevo, 3-4 hours

One of the curiosities of the Nalychevskaya dale – is a place called «Copper». It is a travertine mound with a 5 meter crater on the top. The springs' sediments have created there a huge travertine sheet, one part of which is on the surface, and the other one is covered with a 1 meter layer of soil and volcanic ash. The total capacity of the travertine is 10 meters. The central cordon of the Nalychevskaya dale is famous for the mud spring «Ivanov» and its thermal hot springs. The mud spring is a well 205 meters in depth from where the thermal waters of 80 °C come out. Before the organization of the park, these waters flooded the dale. Now the creek is bounded, and runs across the whole dale, and flows into the river Hot. There are three more hot springs on the banks of the river.

The temperature of the water in each of them is absolutely different. The waters of the biggest hot springs are of the rarest kind – carbonic arsenious boron waters with many microelements. They are unique in their kind in Kamchatka. Recommendations for use: nervous system functional disorders, neuritis, skin diseases, metabolic disease.
